

Including sectoral skills evidence in the Skills Panorama: Practical Framework

12/2016  European Skills Index, People and Skills, Matching Skills and Jobs, Future Jobs, Labour Market Context, EU, Guides & toolkits

The Skills Panorama is an initiative of the European Commission to improve transparency on the European labour market by providing online access to data and research findings on skills and labour market prospects at both national and European level.

The objective of this Practical Framework is to inform potential contributors on how to best feed the Skills Panorama with their sectoral skills evidence. The Framework is expected to facilitate the inclusion of results in the Skills Panorama and set the basis for better synergy and comparative analysis between the future work of various European actors on different sectors.
